PROCLAMATION

Throughout its entire history education has been the means which the people devised for realizing the kind of life they regarded as fundamental and through the work of schools sought to attain for their children. The schools, however, are but one agency through which the citizens of all nations have striven to make their ideals of life realities. Education is a continuing process--a fact which, with the progress of adult education, is becoming increasingly recognized. Some one has said: "Education is not a preparation for life but is life itself, not a process of getting ready for the future but of the rich and happy and purposeful living of each moment of life."

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Leslie Jensen, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby set aside and proclaim November 6-12, 1938, as

and urge that each citizen of South Dakota give serious thought to the function of education and his earnest efforts to placing the best opportunities of self-development and realization within the reach of all. The best forms of communal life will be fostered by an education which regards social activities as a necessary medium for the development of the higher stages of individual life rather than something to which the claims of individual development must be subordinated.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota to be hereto affixed.

DONE AT THE CAPITOL, in the City of Pierre, this 19th day of September, 1938.
